Department of Mathematics, Tokyo Institute of Technology ("Publisher") and the above named author ("Author") agree that, in having the above Article ("Article") published in Kodai Mathematical Journal ("KMJ"), the copyright in Article, including but not limited to the rights under Articles 27 and 28 of the Copyright Law of Japan, shall be assigned by Author to Publisher under the terms and conditions set forth below.

Terms and Conditions Agreed:

1. The author(s) hereby consents that Publisher shall have the right to reproduce or to publicly transmit the article that appears in KMJ wholly or in part by any publication media, including but not limited to electronic media and printed materials.
2. In publishing the article, the editor may alter the article in order to comply with the format of KMJ.
3. The author(s) retains the right to keep the article created by the author(s) on servers approved by Publisher and/or on the author's own Websites for research, education and other academic purposes, provided that the author(s) acknowledges that it was published in KMJ, and that the copyright notice in proper form is placed on all copies. Any production or other form of reproduction not meeting these requirements shall be deemed to be unauthorized.
4. The PDF file provided by Publisher may be used only for private purposes of the author(s).

5. Upon request of the author(s), Publisher may grant the author(s), free of charge, the right to publish the article or its revision for publication with academic value, including the complete works of the author(s). In each case of authorized reproduction, the author(s) shall satisfy all procedural requirements of Publisher and ensure that the original publication by KMJ is properly credited.
6. Upon request of a third party in connection with an intended publication of academic value, Publisher may permit them to use the right of reproduction and/or public transmission of the article. Other matters pertaining to author's copyright in the article shall be governed by the Universal Copyright Convention as revised at Paris and the Copyright Law of Japan.
7. Author declares that any person named as co-author of Article is aware of the fact and has agreed to being so named.
